1. Visit to Physically Challenged Children

Year: 2018-2019

Organizing Unit: St. Aloysius Degree College

Date: 06-08-2018

The Blessed Clair Nivas Extension Activity, under the SADC scheme, organized a visit to physically challenged children during the 2018-2019 academic year. This initiative aimed to foster inclusivity and empathy among students by providing them with an opportunity to interact with differently-abled individuals and understand their unique challenges.

The visit included 50 students who engaged in various activities designed to build a bridge of understanding and compassion. Through interactive sessions, games, and discussions, the students were able to learn firsthand about the daily lives of physically challenged children. These activities not only provided entertainment and joy to the children but also opened the eyes of the visiting students to the significance of accessibility and the essential support systems required by the disabled community.

The interaction allowed the students to witness the resilience and determination of these children, fostering a deep sense of empathy and respect. It highlighted the importance of creating an inclusive environment where everyone, regardless of physical abilities, can thrive. The students came away with a greater awareness of the barriers faced by disabled individuals and a renewed commitment to advocate for better accessibility and support structures in their own communities.

This extension activity was a meaningful step towards breaking down prejudices and misconceptions about disability. It emphasized the need for societal change to ensure that physically challenged individuals are not only included but also valued and supported. Overall, the visit was a transformative experience for the students, instilling in them the values of empathy, inclusivity, and social responsibility.

2. Report on Street Play Addressing Farmer Suicides

Year: 2018-2019

Organizing Unit: Department of Social Work

Date: 20-07-2018

During the 2018-2019 academic year, a street play was organized by Department of Social Work and IFSW, NCRB, and All India Kisan Sabha under the NSS scheme to raise awareness about the critical issue of farmer suicides in India. The play featured the participation of 50 students who creatively depicted the severe struggles and hardships faced by farmers.

The street play served as a powerful medium to highlight the prevalent agrarian distress, portraying the emotional and financial challenges that drive many farmers to take such drastic steps. Through their poignant performances, the students aimed to spark conversations within the community, urging society to recognize and address the root causes of these tragedies.

By illustrating the daily struggles and systemic issues contributing to the crisis, the students emphasized the need for robust support mechanisms and effective policies. Their performance advocated for measures such as fair pricing for crops, access to credit, and mental health support for farmers, aiming to foster a greater understanding and drive collective action towards alleviating the plight of the farming community.

This initiative not only brought attention to an urgent social issue but also empowered the students to become vocal advocates for change. The street play successfully engaged the audience, encouraging them to reflect on the critical importance of supporting India's farmers.

3. Report on Annual NSS Camp at Gokunte Kolar

Year: 2018-2019

Organizing Unit: NSS

Date: 12-08-2018

The 2018-2019 annual NSS camp, held in Gokunte Kolar on 12-08-2018 and organized by Kolar village under the SADC scheme, provided 100 students with an invaluable opportunity for immersive community service and rural development. This week-long camp was designed to address various local needs through a series of impactful activities.

Participants engaged in health camps where they assisted in providing basic medical check-ups and health education, significantly benefiting the local population. Sanitation drives were conducted to promote cleanliness and hygiene, helping to create a healthier living environment. Additionally, students led educational initiatives aimed at empowering the community, particularly focusing on literacy and skill development for children and adults.

These activities not only addressed immediate community needs but also fostered a deeper sense of responsibility and empathy among the students. They experienced firsthand the challenges faced by marginalized rural populations and learned the importance of sustainable development efforts.

The camp's success lay in its dual impact: it provided essential services and support to the villagers of Gokunte Kolar while instilling a spirit of community service and social responsibility

4. Report on Blood Donation Camp Organized by NSS

Year: 2018-2019

Organizing Unit: Indian Red Cross Society and St. Aloysius Degree College

Date: 20-02-2019

The blood donation camp organized by the NSS in collaboration with the Indian Red Cross Society during the 2018-2019 academic year showcased the altruism and humanitarian spirit of the students. A total of 63 students volunteered to donate blood, significantly contributing to the noble cause of saving lives.

The event was meticulously planned and executed, ensuring a smooth and safe donation process for all participants. Medical professionals from the Indian Red Cross Society provided guidance and ensured that the blood collection adhered to the highest standards of safety and hygiene. The enthusiasm and willingness of the students to contribute highlighted their commitment to social responsibility and community welfare.

Beyond the act of donating blood, the camp served as an important platform for promoting awareness about the critical need for regular blood donations. Informative sessions were conducted to educate participants and the broader community about the life-saving impact of blood donation and the ongoing demand for blood in medical emergencies.

This initiative not only facilitated a significant contribution to local blood banks but also instilled a profound sense of civic duty among the students. By participating in this event, students were
